

luxe.

interiors + design®

$ 9.95

A SANDOW PUBLICATION

VOLUME 12, ISSUE 1 | DISPLAY UNTIL 4/14/14

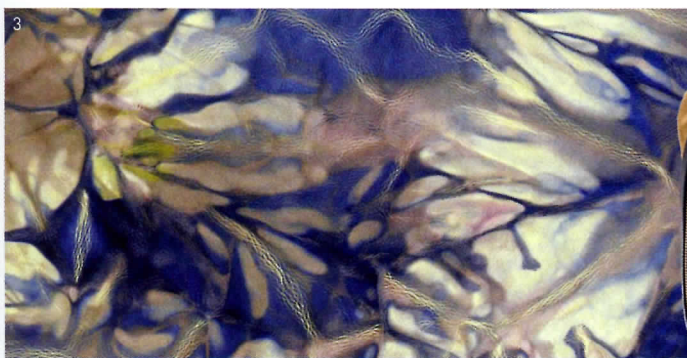

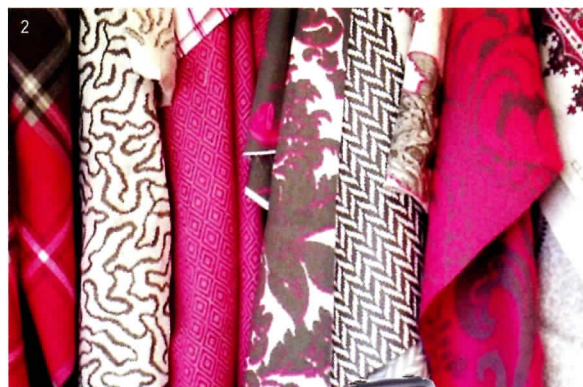

GOLD LIST EDITION

Branca

cold front.

AS THE COOL AIR CREEPS PAST THE BANKS OF LAKE MICHIGAN, SATISFY THE SENSES WITH SOME OF CHITOWN'S CHICEST SHOPS. FROM THE GOLD COAST TO THE SOUTH LOOP, THERE IS NO SHORTAGE OF CLASSIC CHICAGOAN STYLE TO UNCOVER THIS WINTER.

1

ASSEMBLY REQUIRED

Hubbard Street candle atelier Tatine is an expressive blend of owner Margo Breznik's passion and admiration for the world around her. Assuring that no two beeswax or soy candles are alike, each item is painstakingly handcrafted—not manufactured—inside Breznik's Chicago loft. From the natural attar of wild honeysuckle to the masculine aroma of branded leather, Tatine scents are sure to infuse emotion into any space. tatinecandles.com

2

BUCKING BRANCA

Italy-born and now Chicago-based, Alessandra Branca has been a force on the design scene for quite some time. Branca's East Goethe shop combines a dynamic fusion of old- and new-world influences that marry comfort and craftsmanship. Branca recently debuted her first fabric collection exclusively for Schumacher, which features vivid colorways and must-touch textures that reiterate her affinity for fine attention to detail. branca.com

3

WALL FLOWER

Richard Cahan's new tome, Multifarious: Maya Romanoff's Grand Canvas, offers a monograph celebrating the illustrious history and artistic vision of Maya Romanoff. Like the meticulous work that goes into each of Romanoff's immaculate wallcoverings, this book is saturated with homages to the renowned designer. From the beautiful macro stills of his work to the intimate details of his inspirations, every page is a testament to Romanoff's significant contribution to the world of art and design. mayaromanoff.com

4

TAILOR MADE

Who can speak better to the budding young business professionals in Chicago than one of their own? Haberdash founder Adam Beltzman opened his boutique as a bastion for men on the hunt for pieces that display both classic and modern styles. With no shortage of timeless clothing and accessories, Haberdash's new South Loop locale is a must-visit. haberdashmen.com